

MEDICAL EDUCATION STUDY PROGRAM
FACULTY OF MEDICINE
UNIVERSITAS MUHAMMADIYAH MAKASSAR
Thesis, February 2014

Herwiq Ismail (105420247 10)
dr.Sri Asriyani Sp.Rad

“RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN THE CONDITION OF THE HOUSE WITH THE CHILD’S ASTMA ATTACKS IN EAST LUWU ”

ABSTRACT

Background: Sanitation house a public health effort that focuses on the supervision of the physical structure of the house. Healthy home is one of the means to achieve optimum health status.

Objective : To determine the relationship between the condition of the house with the child’s asthma attacks in East Luwu. Where environmental conditions in the home that includes meticulous home room temperature, the density of occupants, extensive ventilation, and light intensity.

Metode : Rancangan penelitian ini adalah “cross sectional study”, dimana pada penelitian ini, yang menyangkut variabel independen atau variabel bebas kondisi lingkungan rumah terhadap serangan asma pada anak usia 1-12 tahun di Luwu Timur.

Results: From the results of research conducted in EAST LUWU, showed that the temperature of the house and extensive ventilations-related asthma attacks children.

Conclusion : Temperature and spacious home has a home ventilation relationship of childhood asthma attacks in EAST LUWU. While the light intensity and density of occupants do not have a relationship of childhood asthma attack in EAST LUWU.

Keywords: Home environment conditions, childhood asthma attacks.