

ABSTRACT

NURHALIZA SIRAJADDIN 105241100817. ANALYSIS OF THE CONTENTS OF ARABIC TEACHING BOOKS TOWARDS INCREASING INTEREST IN LEARNING ARABIC LANGUAGE STUDENTS OF CLASS X MIPA 1 IN MAN 2, MAKASSAR CITY. Thesis : Arabic Language Education Study Program, Faculty of Islamic Religion, University of Muhammadiyah Makassar. Supervisor I Fajriwati Tadjuddin, and supervisor II Muhammad Ibrahim.

The purpose of this study was to analyze the contents of the Arabic Language Textbook to increase student interest in learning in class X MIPA 1 at MAN 2 Makassar City. This research uses qualitative research. Data collection techniques carried out are Observation, Interview, Documentation and Questionnaire techniques.

The results of this study indicate that the textbook meets the criteria for a good textbook in terms of material, namely in accordance with the scientific foundation which includes: accuracy of material, material coverage, and material support. Based on the terms of selection, gradation, presentation, the book meets the criteria of a good book. Then the student's interest in learning which can be said to have greatly increased because of the enthusiasm of students during Arabic subjects, with the help of detailed material and ways of teaching teachers in the classroom that make students enthusiastic and happy to learn Arabic both directly and online (on the network) so that they can learn Arabic. It is said to ask students to improve their learning in Arabic subjects with the Arabic subjects with the textbooks used today.

Keywords: Textbook Content, Learning Interest.