ABSTRACT

M. RISMAN. 2024. The Effect of Good Corporate Governance on the Value of Food and Beverage Sector Manufacturing Companies Listed on the IDX. Thesis. Department of Accounting, Faculty of Economics and Business, University of Muhammadiyah Makassar. Supervised by: Muhammad Nasrun and Hasanuddin.

The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of Good Corporate Governance on the Value of Food and Beverage Sector Manufacturing Companies Listed on the IDX . The population in this study were financial sector manufacturing companies listed on the IDX for the period 2020-2022. The sample in this study used purposive sampling technique, based on the criteria set, a sample of 18 samples was obtained. The type of data used is secondary data in the form of the company's Annual Report. analysis of Data Analysis Methods used in this study, namely: Descriptive Statistics, Classical Assumption Test, and hypothesis testing.

The results showed that the results of data analysis showed that the board of directors had an effect on firm value, meaning that the board of directors in the company is important for achieving effective communication between board members so as to reduce management opportunity behavior. The independent board of commissioners has no effect on firm value. This means that it shows that the role of the independent board of commissioners is less effective in manufacturing companies in the food and beverage sector so that it can be concluded that the independent board of commissioners is unable to increase company value. The audit committee has no effect on firm value. This means that the formation of the audit committee in the sample companies was formed only based on fulfilling obligations to applicable regulations and avoiding sanctions, but not intended to uphold good corporate governance. Managerial ownership affects firm value. This means that the higher the managerial ownership, the higher the company value. Institutional ownership affects firm value. This means that the presence of institutional investors in carrying out the supervisory function in the company is optimal so that the company's value is well maintained.
