Of course there are differences in views regarding the purpose of society's views on kafa'ah in marriage, as is the case in the Sumanna area, Barombong sub-district, Tamalate sub-district, Makassar City. Then the researchers tried to find out how the Sumanna community views kafa'ah nasab in marriage.

This research was carried out using qualitative research methods (field research). The object of this research is the views of society and the views of Islamic law regarding kafa'ah nasab in marriage. The main data sources in this research are primary data and secondary data. Data collection techniques use documentation, interviews and observation techniques. The research approach uses a normative approach and an Islamic legal approach.

The results of the research show that the views of the Sumanna community regarding kafa'ah nasab in marriage are divided into two, namely first, in ancient times, in ancient times kafa'ah nasab was very much required in marriage so that people would look at it from the perspective of nasab. Then secondly, nowadays, in this day and age, kafa'ah lineage in marriage is starting to become less of a requirement. So, in the view of Islamic law regarding the view of the Sumanna community regarding kafa'ah nasab in marriage, namely that it does not violate Islamic law because kafa'ah nasab is not a valid condition for marriage, because the purpose of kafa'ah in marriage is to achieve happiness in the household and avoid injustice. match. The conclusion of this research provides a comprehensive picture of how society views the kafa'ah nasab in marriage and also the view of Islamic law.
