

ABSTRACT

Andi Chaerana. 2020. "The Correlation Between Emotional Intelligence and Students' Speaking Skill" (A Descriptive Research Design)". A Thesis of English Education Faculty of Teacher Training and Education University Muhammadiyah of Makassar (Supervised by Nunung Anugrawati and Andi Asri Jumiati).

This study is an attempt to investigate the correlation between students' emotional intelligence to their students' speaking skill and the significant influence between student's emotional intelligence to their students speaking skill. The population of were 205 at the first year students' of English Department in Muhammadiyah University of Makassar in the academic year 2019/2020. In getting sample, the researcher use random sampling..

There were 30 students as a sample of this study. A quantitative study was used in this study. The data were obtained by questionnaires and speaking test. The result of the test was analysis, there were two major findings. First, there is significant correlation between student's emotional intelligence.

Keywords: Emotional Intelligence, Speaking Skill.